

You can't say the GETTY CENTER has nothing Toulouse, but why can you say he painted a "moodel"?

In SANTA MONICA, if one group had its way in 1973, you'd be plummeting or splashing right now. Which group?

In HOLLYWOOD, find a man who stuck his schnozz in cement. How many did he wish he had?

"I loved the witty questions and racing through the museum. I can't think of a better way to bring people together and have fun."

—JEFF BEZOS, FOUNDER AND CEO OF AMAZON.COM

The City Council, which voted to demolish the pier, according to a history display.

Toulouse-Lautrec used milk-based paint to render Model Resting.

At the Chinese Theatre, Jimmy Durante says of his large nose, "I wish I had a million of 'em!"

WATSON ADVENTURES SCAVENGER HUNTS: A DASH OF CULTURE

You won't be collecting objects (put back that statue!), but hunting for answers to tricky, humorous questions. No knowledge of any hunt location is required whatsoever—you just need a sharp mind and good teamwork.

ENGAGING, FAST-PACED FUN

In museums, parks, historic neighborhoods and beyond, hunters must hustle to answer questions designed to:

- get people relaxed, laughing and having fun
- foster teamwork in a dynamic new way
- introduce people to fascinating places
- lead to an exciting gathering over drinks after the hunt, which we can help you set up

• leave you with more money to spend on that party. Best of all, you'll see your world—and maybe even your teammates—with new eyes.

"If only high school field trips had been this much fun, we'd have spent less time figuring out whom to make out with on the bus ride back."

—DAILY CANDY

CRACK A DA VINCI CODE

The questions are crafted to bring out the various skills of each member of your team. A person who's good at seeing the big picture will get one answer, a teammate who enjoys wordplay will get the next, and someone with a knack for navigating may excel at getting the team from place to place. The best teams quickly learn that they must use the strengths of everyone in the group.

A BIG HIT WITH MAJOR COMPANIES

Watson Adventures has staged hunts for more than 85,000 people since 1998 in L.A., Boston, New York, Washington, D.C., Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Chicago, Seattle, San Francisco, San Jose, San Diego, Hawaii and beyond. Our clients include American Express, Amgen, Disney, Gibson Dunne & Crutcher, Google, HBO, JP Morgan Chase, Mercer HR, Microsoft, Motorola, NBC, Nestlé, Oracle, Pfizer, Warner Bros. and Yahoo! Visit WatsonAdventures.com for an extensive list of our clients, as well as numerous rave reviews from clients and the media.

HUNTS IN THE LOS ANGELES AREA

Our hunts typically last two hours, plus time for setup at the start and scoring at the end. If you don't see what you want here, just ask us to create something new for you.

The Santa Monica Pier Pressure Hunt

The legendary Santa Monica Pier and the lively Third Street Promenade are the anchors of a hunt that reveals history, movie locations, eccentric stores and great views of the beach and beyond. Highlights include Palisades Park, a 500-pound shark, a massive storm, the 1916 carousel featured in The Sting, a shoot-out in a not-OK corral, a 19th-century tavern, a bit of Britain, a robot invasion and much more.

The LACMA Mania Scavenger Hunt

At the L.A. County Museum of Art—including the new Broad Contemporary Art Museum—you'll roam from ancient Asia to modern America while searching for a boy engaged in fowl play, a goddess who has gone too far with the Slim-Fast, a Mexican warrior who gives new meaning to the term "fashion victim" and much more. LACMA has evening hours, which makes it great for after-work hunting.

The Getty Center Art Attack Scavenger Hunt & The Getty Villa Ancient Mysteries Hunt

In the spectacular hilltop setting of the Getty Center, you'll discover clues in paintings, sculptures and even palace rooms. At the Getty Villa, you'll explore a re-creation of an emperor's Roman villa while uncovering mysteries about warriors, philosophers, mummies and the inventors of the toga party.

The "Starring Downtown" Movie Locations Hunt

Discover dazzling buildings new and old on a hunt that features places associated with movies such as Speed, Ghostbusters, L.A. Confidential and Spider-Man. You don't need to know the movies to win—but a non-movie edition of the hunt is also available.

The Hooray for Hollywood Hunt

Be part of the renaissance of the historic heart of the movie industry, centering on Hollywood Boulevard and Highland Avenue. Highlights include the Chinese, Egyptian and El Capitan theaters, the Roosevelt Hotel and of course the many names honored on the Walk of Fame.

Grab 'n' Go Hunts at Disneyland and Magic Mountain

Turn an amusement park into your personal game board. You'll search for unusual objects, perform challenging tasks, take creative team photos and search for surprising information, with questions that can be customized to highlight special information about your group.

...And Beyond

We also offer hunts at the Natural History Museum, the L.A. Zoo, the Norton Simon Museum, the Santa Barbara Zoo and in downtown Santa Barbara. And our Grab 'n' Go Hunt can be staged almost anywhere.

TAILOR A HUNT TO YOUR NEEDS

- To make your hunt particularly memorable, we can:
- create special questions about your company, including a customized "Know Your Colleagues" quiz
 - add team photo challenges and provide cameras
 - lead a special debriefing session with a team-building expert who will underline the lessons that participants can put to use back at the office
 - acquire prizes for the winners or all participants.

LEAVE THE WORRY TO WATSON

Once you introduce us to your participants, you can leave the rest to us. Our MC and assistants will get everyone rarin' to go, check on them during the hunt, score the results and announce the winners at the end.
