

At the MUSEUM OF NATURAL HISTORY, why would the Jolly Green Giant laugh at a Plot against dinos?

What hot item did reporters receive outside president-elect Kennedy's house in GEORGETOWN?

Why are General Sherman's men totally missing the point near THE WHITE HOUSE?

"I loved the witty questions and racing through the museum. I can't think of a better way to bring people together and have fun."

—JEFF BEZOS, FOUNDER AND CEO OF AMAZON.COM

Coffee, according to a plaque the grateful reporters put on the house of the neighbors who served it.

Robert Plot claimed that dinosaur bones came from giant humans.

On the Sherman monument, one sword is missing and another has lost its tip.

WATSON ADVENTURES SCAVENGER HUNTS

*Witty, Cultural Team-Building
In Washington, D.C. & Baltimore*

*"Scampering up the steps with my team,
I felt like a contestant on a reality TV series."*

ON A WATSON ADVENTURES HUNT

WATSON ADVENTURES SCAVENGER HUNTS: A DASH OF CULTURE

You won't be collecting objects (put back that statue!), but hunting for answers to tricky, humorous questions. No knowledge of any hunt location is required whatsoever—you just need a sharp mind and good teamwork.

ENGAGING, FAST-PACED FUN

In museums, parks, historic neighborhoods and beyond, hunters must hustle to answer questions designed to:

- Get people relaxed, laughing and having fun.
- Foster teamwork in a dynamic new way.
- Introduce people to fascinating places.
- Lead to an exciting gathering over drinks after the hunt, which we can help you set up.

- Leave you with more money to spend on that party.
- Best of all, you'll see your world—and maybe even your teammates—with new eyes.

"This is not your garden-variety scavenger hunt.

We'll get plenty of exercise and give our brains a workout."

—BALTIMORE SUN

CRACK A DA VINCI CODE

The questions are crafted to bring out the various skills of each member of your team. A person who's good at seeing the big picture will get one answer, a teammate who enjoys wordplay will get the next, and someone with a knack for navigating may excel at getting the team from place to place. The best teams quickly learn that they must use the strengths of everyone in the group.

A BIG HIT WITH MAJOR COMPANIES

Watson Adventures has staged hunts for more than 70,000 people since 1998 in Washington, D.C., Baltimore, Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, Seattle, San Francisco, Los Angeles and beyond. Our clients include AARP, American Express, Disney, Fidelity, Freddie Mac, Google, GWU Law School, HBO, JP Morgan Chase, Microsoft, the National Wildlife Federation, NPR, Pfizer, Sprint Nextel, White & Case and the World Bank. ## HUNT LOCATIONS IN WASHINGTON, D.C.

Our hunts typically last 90 minutes to two hours. If you don't see what you want here, just ask us to create something new for you.

The Race to the White House Scavenger Hunt

The historic buildings, galleries and stores near the White House make for great hunt territory.

Hunters will track history and discover surprising sights at such locations as Lafayette Park, Ford's Theater, the Willard Hotel (with Lincoln's champagne bill) and the Old Post Office (with a great view from atop its tower).

The Secrets of Georgetown Scavenger Hunt

Discover the amazing variety of this neighborhood, featuring a 19th-century canal, JFK's homes, a tranquil garden, movie locations, the birthplace of the computer, magnificent mansions, hidden alleys and a tavern where Founding Fathers tipped.

The Museum of Natural Hysteria Scavenger Hunt

Hunt for dinosaurs, giant stuffed animals, a camping vampire, a flossing bison, live insects, the Hope Diamond, mummies and more, all in the National Museum of Natural History. Along the way you'll explore China, Africa, South America, the Ice Age, a mine, ancient oceans and beyond.

Hunts at the National Gallery of Art

You don't need to be an expert to uncover the secrets and odd details in surprising works of art. Choose either the classic Secrets of the National Gallery Hunt or the challenging Murder at the National Gallery Hunt, in which you must figure out who dunnit.

The Wild Wildlife Hunt at the National Zoo

See the best of the zoo as you search for pandas, gorillas, tigers, alligators and more. It's a great location for a post-hunt picnic.

The American Art Museum & National Portrait Gallery

Two museums in one building: One minute you'll be scrutinizing dazzling and eccentric works of art, the next you'll be uncovering startling secrets about presidents. Plus this location stays open until 7 p.m., making it a great indoor option for after work.

The Air and Space Race

You have two Air and Space Museums to choose from: the classic one on the Mall or the dazzling new branch near Dulles Airport. Even if you're not an aviation fan, you'll get a kick out of the quirky objects and trivia you'll discover.

The Conquer Washington Hunt

See the best of D.C. on this three-hour tour, including highlights from all of our hunts, as you travel by limo or mass transit, depending on your budget. It's a great way to introduce the city to newcomers and visitors.

HUNT LOCATIONS IN BALTIMORE

As featured in the Baltimore Sun, we now offer hunts in such locations as Fell's Point, the Walters Art Museum, the National Aquarium and Annapolis. For details, contact us or visit WatsonAdventures.com.

TAILOR A HUNT TO YOUR NEEDS

To make your hunt particularly memorable, we can:

- Create special questions about your company, including a customized "Know Your Colleagues" quiz.
- Add Team Photo Challenges and provide cameras.
- Lead a special debriefing session with a team-building expert who will underline the lessons that participants can put to use back at the office.
- Come to a location you choose with our flexible Grab 'n' Go Hunt or our new Great Indoors Challenge.
